MORE ON DAYTONA BEACH

The consummate Florida beach town, with its T-shirt shops, amusement arcades and wall-to-wall motels, DAYTONA BEACH owes its existence to twenty miles of light brown sand where the only pressure is to strip off and enjoy yourself.

Life in this down-to-earth resort now revolves around three major festivals: February's Daytona 500, Bike Week in early March, and the relatively new Biketoberfest.

Daytona Beach is the perfect place for any traveler looking to enjoy some time away at whatever pace they choose. Whether its the beach, the ocean, the weather, the golf, or the high-speed racing, Daytona Beach is the ideal vacation getaway.

THE OCEAN CENTER

It's on the doorstep of the Atlantic Ocean. It's in the heart of the "new" Daytona Beach. It's a multi-use facility that hosts conventions, tradeshows, concerts, banquets, family entertainment shows and sporting events. It's the Daytona Beach Ocean Center, open for business with more than 200,000 square feet of meeting space.

The 164,000 square foot expansion of the Ocean Center, which is doubling the facility's size, is nearing completion. The $76 million construction project will elevate the complex to the sixth largest in Florida. Learn more at www.oceancenter.com.
